

REQUIEM FOR ALL SOULS
HOLY EUCHARIST

Sunday, November 5, 2017, 6 pm

TRINITY CHURCH IN THE CITY OF BOSTON

Whether you have worshiped here for years or are visiting our Episcopal Church for the first time, we are glad you are with us. We invite all to enter fully into worship and to explore the variety of learning, small group, and service opportunities that are part of our life together.

To learn more, visit trinitychurchboston.org and click on New to Trinity, or contact Mark Kharas, at mkharas@trinitychurchboston.org, 617-536-0944 x360.

Listening devices for the hearing impaired and large print bulletins are available from an usher.

The Fauré Requiem

Why would a composer write a Requiem? Brahms' Ein Deutsches Requiem may have emerged from his grief over the death of his mother, and his friend, Robert Schumann. Mozart began his Requiem not long before his own death in 1791, leaving an unfinished work. Perhaps he knew his end was near and wanted to make a final offering to God. Of his own work, Gabriel Fauré said, "My Requiem wasn't written for anything but for pleasure, if I may call it that." Dating from 1887-88, the composer revised, expanded and orchestrated the work until 1900, when the final version was premiered at the Trocadéro in Paris, with 250 performers.

Fauré added, "It has been said that my Requiem does not express the fear of death. Someone has even called it a lullaby of death. But I see death as a happy deliverance, an aspiration towards happiness above, rather than as a painful experience. As to my Requiem, I have instinctively sought to escape from what is thought right and proper, after years of accompanying burial services on the organ! I know it all by heart. I wanted to write something different."

In 1924 this Requiem, in its full orchestral version, was performed at Fauré's own funeral.

About the Cover Image

Ancient Greeks believed that the flesh of peafowl did not decay after death, and so it became a symbol of immortality. The eyes on the tailfeathers of the peacock represent the all-seeing eye of God.

On Trinity's altar, which is modeled on a medieval Byzantine design, we see the symbol used in a fresh way. The mirrored peacocks represent the Eucharistic life (they are drinking the fruit of the vine); both the life we experience through our daily worship and the life which stretches beyond death. The birds are identical; meaning that at our altar, we see this life encountering the life still to come, a reconciling of the separation between the worlds which usually feels so absolute. This makes the mirrored peacocks an especially rich symbol for All Saints and All Souls, the great feast where we proclaim that the cloud of witnesses from the past are present with us now and with the saints who are yet to come.

Perhaps it was this peacock symbol that William Butler Yeats was thinking of in his marvelous, complex poem, "Sailing to Byzantium," where the joyous world of the flesh stands in uneasy harmony with the world of eternity: "Caught in that sensual music all neglect / Monuments of unageing intellect." Yeats imagines himself being transformed into an artificial or clockwork bird, who will be "set upon a golden bough to sing / to lords and ladies of Byzantium / Of what is past, or passing, or to come." For the complete poem, visit poetryfoundation.org/poem/172063

Prelude Élégie Please stand as the procession enters the church.

Louis Vierne (1870-1937)

Introit and Kyrie eleison All stand.

Gabriel Fauré (1845-1924)

Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine: et lux perpetua luceat eis. Te decet hymnus, Deus, in Sion, et tibi reddetur votum in Jerusalem Exaudi orationem meam, ad te omnis caro veniet. Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine: et lux perpetua luceat eis.

Rest eternal grant unto them, O Lord: and let light perpetual shine upon them. Thou, O God, art praised in Zion, and unto thee shall the vow be performed in Jerusalem: thou that hearest the prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come. Rest eternal grant unto them, O Lord: and let light perpetual shine upon them.

Kyrie eleison.

Lord, have mercy.

Christe eleison.

Christ, have mercy.

Kyrie eleison.

Lord, have mercy.

Opening Acclamation & Collects

Blessed be the one, holy and living God.

Glory to God for ever and ever.

The Lord be with you.

And also with you.

Let us pray.

Lord Jesus Christ: As we bid farewell to the light of another day and prepare to welcome the evening lights, we beseech you to let the light of your face shine forth on those who have passed through the evening of their lives to the life of the age to come.

Do not take account of their sins, but welcome them into your kingdom, where there is neither suffering, nor sorrow, nor sighing, but everlasting happiness in your presence.

For you are the resurrection, the life, and the rest of your departed servants, O Christ, our God, and we give glory to you, together with your eternal Father and your all-holy life-giving Spirit; now and forever, and unto the age of ages.

Amen.

O Alpha and Omega, Creator of all, we pray to you for those we love, but see no longer:

Grant them your peace; let light perpetual shine upon them; and in your loving wisdom and almighty power, work in them the good purpose of your perfect will; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Gradual Hymn 621 All stand.

Light's abode, celestial Salem (Rhuddlan)

Gospel Of Christ Remain standing.

John 5:24-27

The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to John. Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Very truly, I tell you, anyone who hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life, and does not come under judgment, but has passed from death to life. "Very truly, I tell you, the hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. For just as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself; and he has given him authority to execute judgment, because he is the Son of Man.

The Gospel of the Lord. Praise to you, Lord Christ.

Homily

The Rev. William W. Rich

Apostles' Creed All stand.

*I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth;
I believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord.
He was conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary.
He suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried.
He descended to the dead.
On the third day he rose again.
He ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again to judge the living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins
the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.*

Prayers of Intercession and Solemn Remembrance occur within Eucharistic Prayer D.

The Peace

The peace of the risen Christ be always with you. And also with you.

The Ministers and People greet one another with a sign of Christ's Peace.

Announcements Be seated.

Pie Jesu, Domine, dona eis requiem; dona eis sempiternam requiem.
Blessed Jesus, Lord and God, grant them rest; grant them eternal rest.

All this we ask through ... now and for ever. Amen.
As our Savior Christ has taught us, we now pray,

The Lord's Prayer

*Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy Name,
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those
who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom,
and the power, and the glory,
for ever and ever. Amen.*

The bread is broken.

Agnus Dei

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccata mundi: dona eis requiem.
Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccata mundi: dona eis requiem sempiternam.
Lux aeterna luceat eis, Domine, cum sanctis tuis in aeternam: quia pius es.
Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine;
et lux perpetua luceat eis.

Lamb of God, who takest away the sins of the world: grant them rest.
Lamb of God, who takest away the sins of the world: grant them eternal rest.

Let eternal light shine upon them, O Lord, with Thy saints forever, for Thou art merciful.
Rest eternal grant them, O Lord;
and let light perpetual shine upon them.

Lux aeterna luceat eis, Domine, cum sanctis tuis in aeternum, quia pius es.
Requiem aeternum dona eis, Domine; et lux perpetua luceat eis.

May everlasting light shine upon them, O Lord, with thy saints in eternity, for thou art merciful.
Grant them eternal rest, O Lord, and may everlasting light shine upon them.

After receiving, all are invited to light a candle in the Baptistry.

*Libera me, Domine, de morte aeterna in die illa tremenda, quando caeli movendi sunt et terra;
dum veneris iudicare saeculum per ignem.
Tremens factus sum ego, et timeo, dum discussio venerit atque ventura ira.
Dies irae, dies illa, calamitatis et miseriae, dies magna et amara valde.
Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine;
et lux perpetua luceat eis.*

Deliver me, O Lord, from everlasting death on that dread day, when the heavens and earth shall quake; when Thou shalt come to judge the world by fire.
I am seized with trembling and I am afraid, until the day of reckoning shall arrive and the wrath to come.
That day, a day of wrath, calamity and misery, the great day and most bitter.
Rest eternal grant them, O Lord;
and let light perpetual shine upon them.

In paradisum

*In paradisum deducant te angeli;
in tuo adventu
suscipiant te martyres, et perducant te in civitatem
sanctam Jerusalem.
Chorus angelorum te suscipiat,
et cum Lazaro quondam paupere,

Into paradise may the angels lead you;
at your coming
may the martyrs receive you,
and bring you to the holy city,
Jerusalem.
There may the choir of angels receive you,
and with Lazarus, once a beggar,
may you have eternal rest.

Prayer After Communion All stand.

Let us pray.
Almighty God,
*we thank you that in your great love you have fed us with the spiritual food and drink of the Body and Blood of your Son Jesus Christ, and have given us a foretaste of your heavenly banquet.
Grant that this Sacrament may to be us a comfort in affliction, and a pledge of our inheritance in that kingdom where there is no death, neither sorrow nor crying, but the fullness of joy in all your saints;
through Jesus Christ our Savior. Amen.*

Commissioning of Lay Eucharistic Visitors who are taking communion to our homeless neighbors on Copley Square
In the name of this congregation, I send you forth bearing these holy gifts, that those to whom you go may share with us in the communion of Christ's body and blood.
We who are many are one body, for we all share one bread and one cup.

Blessing & Dismissal

May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

HIGHLIGHTS

Anti-Racism Team Book Discussion: Small Great Things

Today, 12:15-2 pm, Ferris Library

The Anti-Racism Team hosts a discussion using Jodi Picoult's compelling page-turner novel Small Great Things as a jumping off place to discuss the very current issues of race and particularly the issues that have surfaced since Charlottesville. This story, the characters, and the dilemmas of color, equity, civility and the future of our common life are very real. Please come, even if you haven't read the book. But if you start you won't be able to stop! Contact lindatrum@gmail.com, 781-871-6084

Fauré Requiem & Reception for All Souls

Today, 6 pm, Church & Undercroft

The Trinity Choirs perform the Gabriel Fauré Requiem during the evening Holy Eucharist service on All Saints' Sunday to remember all the faithful departed. Free-will offering. Please join us for a reception in the Undercroft afterwards. Note: No Simple Supper, Sacred Silence, or Compline today.

God is at Work at Trinity: Show Up, Step Up, and Look Up

In these weeks of Stewardship Season, we are talking about how God is at work in our lives and through Trinity Church. During this extraordinary time in our common life, it is important for us to discern and commit to God's vision for us. Our 2018 annual pledging goal of 775 households committing $3M will fund all the ways in which our church will show up, step up, and look up in 2018. To make your pledge, visit: trinitychurchboston.org/2018-annual-pledge, stop by the Stewardship Table, or fill out a pledge card at the entrances to the church. Contact Adam Dawkins, adawkins@trinitychurchboston.org, 617-536-0944.

At the 9 am service today we welcome six new Christians into our life together, as well as renew our own baptismal vows.

Children's Homily and Childcare offered at 9 & 11:15 am. Childcare is available for infants and pre-schoolers in the Nursery located on the second floor of the Parish House in Tapestry Hall. Children in K-5th grades worship with their families; they may leave before the sermon for the Children's Homily and return at the Peace.

NEW TO TRINITY?

1. Meet a clergy person after the 9 & 11:15 am services in front of the Baptistry (front-right side of the church).
2. Stop by the Welcome Desk in the Narthex (by the front doors) on Sunday mornings.
3. Look for a Welcome Minister wearing a green button before or after any service.
4. Join us for a reception in the Commons after the 6 pm Requiem service.

4 Fast Ways to Get Connected

We look forward to getting to know you!
